

Sunangel RZ

Savoy

Description

More upright than most other semi savoy varieties, Sunangel RZ still has the characteristically robust and heavy leaves, with a dark green colour, and excellent factory performance. The upright nature, in combination with uniform leaves results in small amounts of cut leaf, and a very high yield potential. Best suited to baby leaf production in shoulder seasons, Sunangel RZ has a strong disease resistance package, and excellent cool season vigour, meaning that it performs equally well heading into and out of the cold weather.

Key features:

- Semi savoy leaf type
- Very high yield potential, robust leaves, dark green colour
- Suitable for baby leaf production in shoulder seasons
