

Kiedis RZ

Oak

Description

Kiedis RZ is the new generation green oak leaf lettuce and one of the first to include the benefits of Knox™, a naturally occurring trait that delays the 'pinkening' or browning process on cut leaf surfaces to offer improved shelf life. With good vigour and appealing blond green leaves, Kiedis RZ is equally well suited to both whole head sales and processing as a leaf in a bag. A cool season and winter production variety, Kiedis RZ can be grown in either hydroponics or open field.

Key features:

- New generation green oak
- The added benefit of Knox™
- Cool season and winter production
- Ideal for processing and salad leaf markets
